
THE MISEDUCATION OF THE BLACK CHILD: The Hare Plan to Educate Every Black Man, Woman and Child

By Nathan Hare and Julia Hare

“...solutions for the crisis in American education that is keeping millions of Blacks from achieving their potential in society and life.” – Ebony Magazine’s Book Shelf

“These strategies are guaranteed to fly, guaranteed to work, because they also programmatically help the home and the community and the society in turn to influence the school.” – The New York Amsterdam News

“For years now Drs. Nathan and Julia Hare have been in the vanguard of Black thought...but what impresses me most [in The Miseducation] is their discussion on what we can do as individuals and as a community to improve matters...Must reading.” – Leon Dixon, Director of The W.E.B. DuBois Learning Center, in Kansas City

“The Hares indicate that ‘a role model without a success role is like a castrated stallion facing a herd of wild mares, inspired and excited but without internal motivation sufficient to actualize, manifest or consummate the magnitude of the inspiration.’” – The Chicago Defender

“...Some people have the wheel, some have the horse-drawn carriage, some have the combustible engine, but The Miseducation of the Black Child is the automobile, the Cadillac.” ---
-- The Norfolk Journal and Guide

“we concur, ‘if the simmering anti-public school sentiment continues to gather steam, no amount of The hares maintain that the solution will not rest in improving teaching methods (we’ve already got too many techniques’). They see the battle being won increasingly outside the classroom, or what they call ‘the classworld.’” – The Michigan Chronicle

“Not since Paulo Freire’s The Pedagogy of the Oppressed has a book been so heralded in progressive educational circles. The Miseducation of the Black Child will become a textbook on inner city education. It pulls no punches.” – Edgar Ridley, Management Consultant, Ridley and Associates

“The Miseducation of the Black Child is the most provocative, profound and schematically advanced program for the education and uplift of Black folk since Carter G. Woodson’s seminal work, The Miseducation of the Negro.” – Talmadge Anderson, founding editor of The Western Journal of Black Studies, author of the highly regarded textbook, Introduction to African American Studies.
